VICTORY FOR QUAY AT EVERY POINT

COMPLETE CONTROL OF PENNSYLVANIA CONVENTION.

Reports of His Downfall From the Position of Republican Leader Prove to Be Untrue—Gov. Hastings Is Made Permanent Chairman—Opposing Faction Coincides.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—The republican convention was called to order yesterday by Chairman Gilkeson. Secretary Rex called the roll of delegates. Congressman Stone of Allegheny, was substituted for Frank J. Torrence. Speaker Walton named Colonel Henry Hall, of Pittsburgh, for temporary chairman. Senator Quay said:

"By direction of the caucus held last night I have the honor to name for temporary chairman John B. Robinson, of Delaware."

Ex-Collector Thomas V. Cooper, of Delaware, made a speech seconding

GOV. HASTINGS.

Robinson's nomination. The announcement that Robinson had been elected by a vote of 163 2-3 to 133 1-3 for Hall was greeted with the wildest applause. Mr. Hall moved that the election of Robinson be made unanimous. Governor Hastings seconded the motion and it was carried. Senator Quay moved that the committee on permanent organization be instructed to report the name of Governor Hastings for permanent chairman. Carried. A conference of the leaders was held in the convention at which it was decided that Quay shall move the unanimous nomination of the governor's appointees for judges of the superior court, and Gilkeson the unanimous nomination of Quay as state chairman.

A resolution was unanimously adopted providing for the election of state chairman by the convention, instead of by candidates, as heretofore.

The committee on resolutions was instructed to adopt as part of the state platform the currency plank in the republican national platform of 1892.

The committee on permanent organization met at once in the lobby and went through the form of agreeing on Governor Hastings for permanent chairman. Governor Hastings thanked the convention for the honor of his unanimous election as chairman. Nominations for state treasurer were called for, and Benjamin J. Haywood, of Mercer county, was unanimously chosen.

Senator Quay was recognized. He said: "I am satisfied, while I have my prejudices in this fight, that it is for the best interest of the republican party that the nominees of our governor for the superior court be the choice of this convention. I will, therefore, though it may be unprecedented, move that James A. Beaver, of Center; Howard J. Reeder, Northampton; John J. Wickham, Beaver; George B. Orlady, Huntington; Charles E. Rice, Luzerne; E. N. Willard, Lackawanna, be declared the nominees of this convention." The senator's motion was unanimously agreed to.

Chairman Gilkeson said:

"It is perfectly evident to my mind, after the vote for temporary chairman, what would be the result of a vote for state chairman. I therefore, in the interest of party harmony, withdraw as a candidate for the place and move the unanimous election of Senator Matthew Stanley Quay."

This statement was received with wild applause. The delegates stood on their seats and waved handkerchiefs, etc. Senator Quay was then made the unanimous choice of the convention for state chairman. The convention adjourned sine die at 2:48 o'clock.

The platform, as adopted, contained the money plank of the Minneapolis convention, charged the panic of 1893 to the fear of free trade, and ended with Senator Quay's resolution for a purification of the civil service.

IN SERIOUS DANGER.

Idaho Town Surrounded by Forest Fires

—Aid Asked For.

Wallace, Idaho, Aug. 29.—Osborn is surrounded by immense forest fires, and is momentarily threatened with destruction. In response to a telephone message the fire department, with the entire apparatus, was loaded aboard a special train, and has left to assist the neighboring town. Osborn is situated like all the towns in the Coeur d'Alene district, in a deep canyon with mountains on both sides, heavily timbered, and with this dense forest ablaze on both sides it is more than likely that the town is doomed. Fears are strengthened by the fact that no communication can be had with the threatened town, either by 'phone or telegraph.

KILLS HIS MOTHER.

Indiana Man Commits a Terrible Crime While Drunk.

Shelbyville, Ind., Aug. 29.—John Wrenfick, aged 26, shot and instantly killed his mother late yesterday evening. He had been drinking, and quarreled with Miss Eva Nelson, who was at the Wrenfick's house. He threatened her, and getting hold of an old musket ran her out of the house and off the premises. When she returned Mrs. William Wrenfick was with her, and just as the door opened young Wrenfick fired. The entire load of shot and slugs was emptied into her breast, and she fell at his feet a corpse. He is now raving, and declares he will commit suicide. He also says that he did not know the gun was loaded.

Serious Charges Against a Judge.
Chamberlain, S. D., Aug. 29.—Sensations in South Dakota official circles are becoming of daily occurrence. The latest concerns United States Commissioner Morrow, of this city, who a short time ago attained considerable prominence by his determination to prosecute wealthy cattle companies for fencing vacant government land. Charges of a serious nature have been filed against Judge Morrow, and his dismissal from office is asked. The charges are, in substance, that he has prostituted his judicial position to wreak vengeance upon his personal enemies.

Jail Delivery at Geneva, Ill.
Aurora, Ill., Aug. 29.—Twelve prisoners escaped from the county jail at Geneva at 8 o'clock last night during the absence of Sheriff Robert Burke, who was in this city serving legal papers. Among those who escaped are: Arthur Clark, Ed. Wood, Fred Funk, Louis Pfud, James O'Brien, Dan Shell, Peter Kelly and John Smith. The worst one of the lot, and one Sheriff Burke would give much to capture, is O'Brien, known in police circles as "Prairie Jim," who has been at the thieving business in this county for years. The prisoners made their escape by sawing through the bars.

May Fight in Mexico.
El Paso, Tex., Aug. 29.—It is understood that matters have been fixed at Mexico City with the federal officials so that the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight can be pulled off in Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso. Governor Asmundas, of Chihuahua, favors having the fight at Juarez, but has been held back by President Diaz heretofore. Twenty thousand dollars in Mexican money must be put up as a guarantee for local expenses and as evidence of good faith.

Train Wreckers at Work.
Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 29.—An attempt was made to wreck the eastbound night express on the Nickel Plate road near McComb, Ohio, Tuesday night. Ties were placed on the track, and had the express not been late it would have plunged into the obstruction. As it was, a freight train passed over the road first and the ties were discovered.

Three Men May Die.
Wapakoneta, O., Aug. 29.—Tuesday's riot is still the theme of exciting interest. Tellis, who was shot through the bowels by Vanskiver, is dead. Andrew Siferd, who was wounded, is in a critical condition, and Vanskiver, who did the shooting after he had been fearfully beaten on the head, is in serious danger from bloodpoisoning. The mayor has sworn in an extra police force to protect the workmen against the strikers.

Notifies Meat Exporters.
Washington, Aug. 29.—An important order, giving full protection to foreign consumers of American meat products was issued by Secretary Morton yesterday. It will prevent the exportation of any beef that is not inspected, and will cause the exporters of horse meat so to mark the packages that the nature of the contents shall be apparent. The action is authorized by an act of March 3, 1891, amended March 2 last.

May Call Out Militia.
Ishpeming, Mich., Aug. 29.—The Lake Angeline steam shovel will be removing ore from the dock to the cars before the next forty-eight hours pass. Every member of the crew engaged around the shovel has subscribed to the oath taken by the special police. The companies will begin loading ore with Governor Rich and the entire resources of the state behind them.

Holmes Will Be Indicted.
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.—Coroner Castor, of Marion county, is in possession of the premises where the bones of young Howard Pitzel were found Tuesday at Irvington. Holmes will be indicted in this county for murder, but no effort will be made to bring him here, as evidence against him elsewhere is thought to be sufficient to convict him.

Not Guilty of Poisoning.
Crows Point, Ind., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Eighstadt and son, John, charged with putting poison in the water pail at Horsford Park, had their hearing yesterday and were discharged, as no convicting evidence could be procured against the trio. Fifty witnesses testified.

WAS A HEAVY STORM AND WRECKED MUCH

MANY CASUALTIES REPORTED FROM VARIOUS POINTS.

Two Children Drowned in a Swollen Stream Near Bloomington Ill.
Four Persons Lost By the Capsizing of a Boat—The Storm General Throughout the Country.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 29.—A tornado, accompanied by a genuine cloudburst, swept over this city and vicinity at 3:45 yesterday afternoon. Trees were broken down all over the city, sewers were overflowed, and the almost empty creeks and runs were changed into tumbling streams in thirty minutes. Many will drown tonight. Yesterday was devoted by the Knights Templars to excursions, receptions, drills and the conclave meeting. Half a dozen of the crack commanderies, with a city full of spectators, made their way to the baseball grounds in the morning, where all the special movements of the knights were exemplified in a splendid exhibition drill. Six commanderies took part in the drill: Columbia Commandery, of Washington; Apollo Commandery, of Troy, N. Y.; the "Little Commandery" from the Masonic home of Louisville, Ky.; St. Bernard Commandery, of Chicago; Minneapolis, Detroit, and the Boston Commandery. Gen. Lawrence made a little speech, in which he called attention to the fact that this drill was unlike some former drills of Knights Templars in that it did away with all chance for petty jealousy in not being competitive. He then presented a stand of colors to each of the commanderies that had taken part in the drill as a token of the appreciation in which their work is held.

The conclave of the grand encampment in Masonic Hall opened with devotional exercises led by Grand Prelate McGrath, after which the roll-call showed 375 grand sir knights present. In the table of comparison in his report Grand Recorder Isaacs submitted the following concerning the growth of the Knights Templar: There were 813 subordinate commanderies in 1895 under the grand commandery; 22 subordinate commanderies under the grand encampment, 16,877 knights in grand commanderies, 964 knighted in subordinate commanderies. Total membership of commanderies, 87,724.

In 1892 the number of subordinate commanderies under the grand commandery was 880, and 30 under the grand encampment; 19,864 knighted in grand commanderies, 994 knighted in subordinate commanderies—32,781 total membership.

There were 961 subordinate commanderies under the grand commandery in 1895 and 36 under the grand encampment; 21,531 knighted in grand commanderies, 783 knighted in subordinate commanderies; total membership, 106,770.

The financial report gives a comparative statement eight years back. In 1887, $3,538.40 was received from the grand commanderies, which sum was supplemented each year until it reached $5,123.60 in 1895. There was $396 received from subordinate commanderies in 1887, which increased year by year, reaching $528 in 1895.

Grand Treasurer H. Wales Lines reported balance, at last settlement, $2,093; receipts, $17,848; expenditures, $15,450; balance, $2,988; net cash resources, $30,303.

DROWNED ON THE ST. CLAIR.

Four Persons Lost by the Capsizing of a Boat.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 29.—An accident occurred on the St. Clair river, near Marysville, during a squall and rainstorm yesterday afternoon, in which four persons lost their lives: The dead:

DERUFG, FRANK.

DERUFG, MRS. MICHAEL.

CHOINSKI, MISS CECELIA, 20 years old.

COMMER, MISS EDITH, 20 years old.

A picnic was being held at Stag island, opposite Marysville, and Mrs. Michael Derufl, Frank Derufl, her brother-in-law, and three young ladies—Miss Celia Choinski, Minnie Schenckhart and Edith Commer—rowed over early in the day. When the storm was seen coming up they started back for home, but when within 400 feet of the shore the squall struck the little craft and capsized it. Miss Schenckhart, a girl of 15, clambered upon the boat, but the other three all got hold of Frank Derufl. For a time he held on the overturned boat with one hand and made a heroic battle for life, but when one of the women, in her desperation, got hold of his free hand, the handicap proved too much and he had to let go, and all four sank to the bottom. The Schenckhart girl clung to the boat, and was rescued later by some boys. Mrs. Derufl leaves a husband and two small children. The two young ladies were each about 20 years of age.

DAMAGE AT SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Storm Lasting Not More Than Half an Hour Does the Work.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 29.—A cyclone of hail, wind and rain struck this city at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It lasted not more than half an hour, but in that time hundreds of dollars' worth of property was destroyed and several persons were injured. The storm caused the greatest damage in the center of the city. Trolley cars were blockaded and telephone, telegraph, police and fire alarm wires were blown down. John O'Hara, an engineer for the Consolidated Street Railway Company, was caught beneath a falling chimney and may die. At the annual fair of the state agricultural society at Lakeside thousands of dollars' worth of property was destroyed. Several persons were injured by falling tents and buildings. The storm came from the northwest. Several upturned boats have been found on Onondaga Lake and several pleasure parties may have been drowned.

Given Ten Years.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 29.—A dispatch was received from North Platte last evening by a Union Pacific official, stating that Hans and Knute Knutesen had pleaded guilty to the charge of train robbery and were sentenced by the district judge to ten years in the penitentiary.

His Tongue Paralyzed.

Athens, Ga., Aug. 29.—William Haygood, while profaning on Monday at High Shoals, declaring that there was no God, no heaven and no hell, had his tongue paralyzed. The matter has caused a great sensation in that community.

Boston, Aug. 29.—Sir Knight Warren Larue Thomas of Kentucky was today elected grand master of Knights Templar. Pittsburg was chosen as the place of the next triennial conclave. It rained today and the Sir Knights resumed their citizen's dress. Many will debase tonight. Yesterday was devoted by the Knights Templars to excursions, receptions, drills and the conclave meeting. Half a dozen of the crack commanderies, with a city full of spectators, made their way to the baseball grounds in the morning, where all the special movements of the knights were exemplified in a splendid exhibition drill.

MAY EVICT SETTLERS.

Dispute Over Ownership of Much Iowa Land.

Sioux City, Iowa, Aug. 29.—An important case involving the title to acreage land has been filed in the district court here. When the government survey was made a bayou over 600 acres in extent was found off the Missouri some miles below Sioux City. Meander lines were run around it, and when the water afterward drained off settlers squatted on it as government land. A. T. Bigelow, who owns land on both sides of it, now asks that the settlers be evicted on the ground that it is acreage land and belongs to him. There are many hundred acres in the county over which there is similar dispute, and this case will be made a test.

Forged Pedigrees of Cattle.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 29.—For some time the American Cattle Club, the national organization formed by the breeders of pedigree cattle, has believed that Randall Litsey, a leading Jersey breeder of Mercer, had been forging pedigrees. The company sent its agent, Volance Fuller, to Harrodsburg to investigate, and yesterday he swore out warrants on thirteen separate counts, charging Litsey with forging pedigrees to certain Jersey cattle he had sold. The defense will try to prove him insane.

Militiamen Won't Drill.

Hastings, Neb., Aug. 29.—A sensation has been sprung in the military encampment. The Thurston rifles announced that they would not take part in the competition drill for the governor's challenge cup. Lieut. Hayward, who is in command of the rifles, said his men did not think they received fair treatment at the last competition and will never go into another competition under the present regulations and without a regular army officer as judge.

Posse After Desperados.

Chamberlain, S. D., Aug. 29.—After a chase of many hundred miles a sheriff's posse from Bismarck is close on the trail of two desperadoes who recently escaped from the Bismarck jail, and were traced to Forks Bad river, 100 miles west of here. Officers expect to capture them within forty-eight hours. A fight may occur.

BIG FAIR PROMISED BY SECRETARY WATT

THE PROGRAM IS NOW BEING MADE OUT.

Wednesday Will Be Beloit Day.
Children's Day and Bicycle Day All
In One With Music By the Beloit
Band—The Program, the Races and Other Events.

A FAIR that will eclipse any show ever given on the Janesville grounds is promised by Secretary Watt, of the Rock County Agricultural society, and he is making his plans accordingly. Amusement enterprises are right in Mr. Watt's line, and his fifteen years' experience as treasurer of the Robbins' and Forepaugh circuses, have taught him how to "handle a crowd" and the value of the different classes of attractions. That Mr. Watt can get up a fair that will be a credit to the county as well as entirely satisfactory to the people, goes without saying. The price of admission is but 25 cents with a charge of ten cents additional for the grand stand, which make the fair the cheapest entertainment given in Janesville this year. The program is being arranged and Wednesday will be Beloit day, bicycle day and children's day, all in one. Music will be furnished by the Beloit band and school children under fifteen years of age will be admitted free. They can procure badges of their teachers or at the gate.

Fun All Day Long.

The exercises will commence at 10 a.m. with the following program:

100 yard foot race, boys under 15, 1st. prize $1.00, 2nd. 50 cents, 100 yard foot race, girls under 15, 1st. prize $1.00, 2nd. prize 50 cents. One-half mile bicycile race for girls under 15, 1st. prize $2.00; 2nd. 1.00. Tilting at the ring, boys under 15, first prize $3.00, second prize $2.00. One-fourth mile race, ponies under 14 hands, 1st. prize, $3.00, second $2.00. The exhibition will be under the direction of C. C. McLean who will take entries Wednesday forenoon in the same manner as at Scotch games. There will also be chariot races in the morning and afternoon.

The horse racing will commence promptly at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, while the bicycle races occur at 4 o'clock, with the following programme under the direction of the Arrow cycling club:

Bicycle Race Programme.

The competition is open to residents of Rock county, and all the following events are in class A:

No. 1—Quarter mile open—for championship of Rock county: 1st prize, gold medal; 2d prize, opera glasses; 3d prize, silk umbrella.

No. 2—One mile open—for championship of Rock county—1st prize, gold medal, 2d prize, gold cuff buttons; 3d prize, Knox hat.

No. 3—One mile handicap—1st prize, stop watch; 2d prize, gent's valise; 3d prize, sweater.

No. 4—Three mile handicap—1st prize, diamond stud; 2d prize, watch charm; 3d prize, Stetson hat.

The entries close Monday, Sept. 2 and all the races will be called at 4 p.m. with the exception of No. 5 which will occur at 11 a.m.

This promises to be the greatest day's amusement ever given on the fair grounds—three shows in one so to speak—athletic games, bicycle races, horse races, besides the chariot races, which will afford excitement for everybody, and the grand exhibits, all accompanied by the Beloit band's inspiring music.

THROUGH MAIL ON THE 1:25 TRAIN.
Force of St. Paul Postal Clerks Abort the Matter By Route.

All the through mail from Chicago to St. Paul passes through Janesville, under the arrangement put in force this week. The eastern mail has been sent out of Chicago heretofore on the Milwaukee & St. Paul express by way of Milwaukee. It now goes on the midnight limited, leaving Chicago at 10:30 and passing through Janesville at 1:25 a.m. The St. Paul road was unwilling to run mail cars through to St. Paul, so the mail had been ponched.

and dumped into a baggage car at Portage. Under the new arrangement the Chicago mail car is dropped at Baraboo, but a St. Paul car with a force of St. Paul postal clerks is picked up at Camp Douglas. The St. Paul mail is assort by carrier districts and the carriers get their pouches direct from the car, each pouch made up in carrier routes. This will result in a delivery to the down town business firms before luncheon, in time for something to be done on the same day.

GOSSIP FOR THE HORSE LOVER.
Most of the Horses That Raced Here Now at Galesburg, Ill.

Most of the horses that competed at the Janesville track last month are now at Galesburg, Ill., and the winners at that town yesterday were mostly horses that also won here. Miss Williams, who won the 2:15 class pacing purse here in 2:10 $\frac{1}{4}$, won the money for that class at Galesburg, also defeating about the same field that she met here, including Judge Hurt, Sir Edwin Arnold, Spinetta, Dempsey and Nellie M. The best time was 2:00 $\frac{1}{4}$.

Kate Phallmont, who has taken a record of 2:12 $\frac{1}{4}$ this season, did not seem to be at herself at Galesburg yesterday, getting fourth money in the 2:17 trotting class, the best time made being 2:13. Baron Dillon won the money, the other horses that raced here being Ben B., Maggie Sherman—J. O. Gerrity's horse—and Vyzant.

The Corporal and Abnet, who had a lively race together in the 2:29 trotting class here, met again at Galesburg yesterday. At the Janesville track, the Corporal won in straight heats with Abnet a good second each time the fastest mile being made in 2:16. At Galesburg Abnet won the first heat in 2:13, after which the Corporal won the race. Abnet is the phenomenal three-year-old of the year and her owner, Henry Cheeseman, of Clinton, is making money with her.

Klamath, the phenomenal horse from California, who won the 2:12 class trotting purse here and set the Janesville track's race record for that gait at 2:11 $\frac{1}{4}$, was defeated at New York yesterday by both Azote and Benzetta, although Azote had to go in 2:05 $\frac{1}{4}$, which is now the world's record for a gelding, to win the money.

John Kelly started Eastview in the 2:19 trotting class at New York yesterday, but only got fourth money.

WILL PLAY IN ANOTHER LEAGUE

Janesville Ball Players Have Another Shift—Two Pennants Won This Year.

Those nine sturdy Janesville ball players who make up the Dubuque nine are to enter another league.

President Kent, of the Western association, has received application from the Dubuque and Burlington clubs of the Eastern Iowa league for admission to the association in place of Denver and Jacksonville, disbanded. The announcement is made that Dubuque will be admitted and will play Quincy Saturday. Dubuque won the pennants in both the eight and six club Iowa circuit races.

The distinction between riders of Class A and Class B is that the former are not allowed expenses or to race for prizes valued at more than $100, while B riders can accept expenses and prizes of any value, but not money.

W. F. Sanger got in from Appleton this noon and said to a Gazette reporter:

"Yes, I suppose they will drop us. That will make a Wisconsin Class B of five and with the cooperation of Class B riders from Illinois we can have plenty of very fine races."

WINNERS IN APPLETON.

Most of the men who were here today were in Appleton yesterday. Milwaukee riders figured largely among the winners.

Willie Sanger started in only two events, the half mile and the consolation. He won the consolation prize, a suit of clothes made to order. Shrader took the half-mile open in 1:03, and the mile open in 2:14. Bingenheimer, of Milwaukee, (45 yeas) won the three-mile handicap in 7:40. Schmidtbaumer and Neilson of Milwaukee, rode half a mile, flying start, against the state tandem record, but did not lower it, their time being 1:01 flat. The mile open and Appleton championship were paced by the aforementioned tandem team.

WORKINGMEN TO BUILD HOMES

Acme Property In Beloit Bought By a Syndicate of Mechanics.

An association of Beloit mechanics was recently formed, and its members have bought nearly a hundred building lots in the western part of the city and some twenty will build homes thereon this fall. The land was purchased at acre prices and many workingmen will have homes of their own by the arrangement.

It is no empty boast on the part of Littell's Living Age that while it is the oldest high-class literary publication in the country, it also stands at the head in regard to the quantity of the matter given its readers yearly, and in the uniformly high character of its contents.

RIDERS STIRRED UP BY GIDEON'S PROD

FIVE WHEELMEN DROPPED FROM CLASS A.

Sensation Sprung on the "Cracks" Who Are In Town Today—Will F. Sanger, Harry Crocker, Edward Roth, W. C. Schrader and A. F. Bingenheimer Apprehend Trouble.

Five of the fastest wheelmen in the state—the fastest by all odds at the Janesville meet—are greatly agitated. News comes from Milwaukee that they are to be transferred from Class A to Class B of the L. A. W. This will bar them from purely amateur races, and put them in among the expert riders whose expenses are paid by manufacturers.

The riders involved are William F. Sanger, Harry Crocker and Edward Roth of the Telegram team and Walter C. Schrader and A. F. Bingenheimer, who mount Andras wheels. All but Roth are here today.

No official communication containing this information has been received by M. C. Rotier, general secretary of the Wisconsin division, who is here to represent the Janesville races, but an official announcement from Chairman Gideon is expected in the next regular weekly communication.

Had Hotel Bills Paid.

The charge made against the men is that they have repeatedly accepted money for traveling, hotel and like expenses, which is contrary to the rules governing Class A riders.

The men were warned some time ago that an investigation would be made, but their friends believed that nothing could be proved which would lead to their being placed in Class B. Blanks were very recently sent to them containing certain questions which if truthfully replied to would show whether or not they had violated Class A rules. Schrader and Bingenheimer, it is charged, are holding off the limited time—two weeks—in order that they may make sure money.

Barred From Circuit Races

Herman Jordan, a cycling man from Chicago and a close friend of Chairman Gideon, informed several of the boys that action making them Class B wheelmen would be taken next Monday.

This action will make them the only riders of the state in the higher class—Walter Sanger having turned professional—and they will henceforth be barred from competing in the state circuit races.

The distinction between riders of Class A and Class B is that the former are not allowed expenses or to race for prizes valued at more than $100, while B riders can accept expenses and prizes of any value, but not money.

Most of the men who were here today were in Appleton yesterday. Milwaukee riders figured largely among the winners.

Willie Sanger started in only two events, the half mile and the consolation. He won the consolation prize, a suit of clothes made to order. Shrader took the half-mile open in 1:03, and the mile open in 2:14. Bingenheimer, of Milwaukee, (45 yeas) won the three-mile handicap in 7:40. Schmidtbaumer and Neilson of Milwaukee, rode half a mile, flying start, against the state tandem record, but did not lower it, their time being 1:01 flat. The mile open and Appleton championship were paced by the aforementioned tandem team.

DREAMLAND.

Where sighs the whispering linden
To summer's lightest breeze,
Where tuneful birds make music—
Unseen 'mid shady trees—
How sweet awhile to linger
Beside some babbling stream,
And lulled by its soft murmur
To fall asleep and dream!

What strange fantastic pictures
Pass mirrored o'er the brain
As youth forgets its troubles
And age grows young again!
The past, no more remembered,
Makes way for what shall be,
And scenes of future gladness
Are all the dreamers see.

Ah, would these idle fancies
Might sometimes prove them true
Nor fade away to nothing
And vanish from the view!
Fond thought! But cease repining.
Perchance 'tis happier thus
To leave unsolved life's riddle
Nor ask what waits for us.

A DEAD SHOT.

They called him Tex in lieu of any reliable information as to his proper patronymic, and he bobbed up in that miscellaneous assortment of humanity that flocked to Leadville in the first flush of the silver excitement. Tex was an Apollo of the plains, a mere boy, with long yellow curls, blue eyes and a woman's complexion and with a frame that towered six feet in his stockings. He had been a member of an immigrant train in his tenderer years, which the Indians had attacked and wiped out of existence. Tex had been adopted by the tribe and had spent some years in this savage society, until General McHenry, commanding regular troops, one day swooped down on the camp and seized Tex and restored him to civilization. And then Tex became a cowboy. That was his history down to the time that he went to Leadville and became a familiar figure about the gambling houses.

Everybody, with the possible exception of the parson and a few women and children in camp, in those days wooed the fickle goddess of fortune in roulette or at faro, poker and even keno, and Tex's occupation as a professional gambler did not lower his social standing by one degree. As a matter of fact, Tex was a great favorite. He was a big, kind hearted boy, with a quiet manner and good natured smile, but, withal, a man—a man, too, capable of being aroused at times and in that condition one of the most dangerous men in the west.

One day Tex sat down in The Gold Room, a popular resort on Chestnut street, to a little game of poker. The stakes were high, and Tex was steadily losing. When he discovered that his partner was playing with a double deck Tex put his hand on the jack pot and called the other a cur. That party whipped out a six shooter, but lay dead in his tracks with a bullet hole through his heart before he could bring his pistol to a level. Tex was such an expert with his gun!

Bret Harte relates that the gamblers in Tuttle's grocery calmly continued their game the day that French Pete and Kanaka Joe shot each other to death over the bar in the front room. The game in The Gold Room on this occasion must have been less absorbing in interest, for the crowd made a rush for Tex, who calmly turned around at the door and quietly advised his pursuers to resume their peaceful occupations at the table if they did not want to fill a common grave over on the other side of Capitol hill. And very wisely the crowd acted on Tex's advice. And so the matter apparently blew over without any serious annoyance to the young man, who continued to walk the streets in his leisurely way, obviously none the worse in conscience for having assisted in the premature taking off of a dishonest gambler. How many men Tex in his short but eventful career had killed nobody knew, but his bearing on this occasion indicated that he was no novice. He was greeted respectfully by passers, and he smiled as benevolently and kindly upon those he cared to notice as though the process of shooting a man through the heart was an accepted act of ethical propriety.

And nothing more would have come of it if people had not begun to twist Town Marshal O'Connor on his failure to do his duty. The marshal had no hankering after Tex's society, no vaulting ambition to arrest him. Tex had been somewhat informal in his administration of justice. He might have waited for his opponent to shoot first, and then allowed the regularly elected justice of the peace to try the case afterward, but Tex, in his youthful inexperience and very vague acquaintance with the proprieties of civilization, had not stopped to think of that. A cold deck and a suggestive movement toward the seat of war on the part of an adversary had always been his signal for prompt action, and his triggerless six shooter had on such occasions always been the arbiter of justice, from which no appeal lay. The merciless twitting to which O'Connor was subjected had made it necessary for him to do something to maintain the dignity of the law.

When Tex that evening walked into The Gold Room, O'Connor was there. They saw each other at a glance. O'Connor leisurely walked toward Tex, and the boy fastened his keen eyes upon him as though he would read his thoughts.

"Tex," said the marshal, "you've killed Skinner, and you know what I've got to do with you."

"Arrest me?" said Tex quietly. The conversation was conducted in subdued tones. "Don't try it," continued Tex. "I like you, and I haven't got a thing against you. I don't want to kill you, O'Connor. Leave me alone. When the grand jury meets you'll find me right here in The Gold Room, and I'll go with you and stand trial, but I won't be arrested."

"But, Tex," said the marshal, "I've got to do my duty."

"And I've got to do mine," said Tex.

"I done it this morning when I drilled a hole through Skinny, and I'll do it whenever a man puts a hand on me. I ain't spoiling for a fight, specially with you, O'Connor, and if you see your duty make sure that it is to let me alone. Now go away and don't trouble yourself any more about me."

Tex turned to go away, but in turning he saw the marshal draw his pistol. There was a quick, sharp report, a puff of smoke, and O'Connor lay writhing on the floor in his blood.

Again the large gambling room was in a state of commotion. Tables were upturned, and loud voices could be distinguished above the din, shouting: "Kill him!" "Shoot him!" There was a general rush in the direction where Tex had stood, but the boy had disappeared.

Then it was that Leadville experienced a moral revulsion. When men could no longer sit down to a beguiling game of stud poker or watch the cards as they were silently slipped from the case by the nimble fingers of the faro dealer without being disturbed by the crack of pistols and the accompanying acts of violence and bloodshed it was time to make a few examples and readjust the moral standard of the community.

How much greater was the necessity when, as on this occasion, men made free with the executive hand of justice in the person of the marshal, whose only offense had been that of trying to cage a flagrant violator of the peace and maintain the dignity of the law, even what little there was of it. But Tex could nowhere be found.

Sheriff Tucker began to take the case in hand. He and his deputies scoured the town from one end to the other. They visited all of Tex's resorts and calling places, but none had seen him after the shooting. At last Tucker heard that he had left town on horseback. He was probably far over the divide by this time, but Tucker was not the sort of man to be easily discouraged. He and a deputy, whose aim was as accurate as his own, and whose courage was something to be banked on in all emergencies, started in pursuit. They had better horses than the animal Tex was riding, and they were soon on the boy's trail.

Then began one of the hottest pursuits that was ever known. By daylight they were in sight of the fugitive, catching a faroff glimpse of him as he waved his sombrero at them just as he slipped over the crest of a range of hills. Both parties had changed horses several times.

At one place Tex had traded his broken down broncho for a buggy horse, paying the difference that the owner asked without haggling about the price. Then he had traded the buggy horse for a Ute pony that would try to run up a hill as fast as he ran down, and whose spirit nothing could conquer but death. Once they were perceptibly gaining on him and tripped a few shots that fell short.

Just as they thought they were going to close in on him and were putting their horses to their best Tex waved his sombrero over his head, standing erect in the saddle, and gave such an unearthly yell that the poor pony was frightened into a convulsive effort that carried him beyond the range of vision of Tucker and his man. Yet on they pressed, around the shoulder of a hill, and there they saw their man—at their mercy.

His broncho had broken his neck stumbling over a boulder. Tex had been thrown down, but was too expert a rider not to find his feet. His revolver had been hurled down a bank and was beyond reach. His pursuers were upon him, and the business end of two revolvers were ominously directed against his breast.

Tex made a bounding leap down the bank. "Crack, crack!" spoke two revolvers, but the bullets missed. The next instant Tex had got possession of his revolver, but the leap had broken his wrist, and the sheriff and his man had the drop on him.

"Tex," shouted Tucker, "throw up your hands! We've got you."

"Shoot, d—n you, shoot!"

He tried to level his own gun, but his wrist was limp, and before he could change it to his left hand there was an almost simultaneous report of two pistols, and a pair of bullets had passed into his heart. Tex fell heavily on his side, and as the sheriff and his deputy saw that they had done their work well they watched him.

"Take the pot!" gasped Tex, and died.—Washington Post.

Inconsistent Teeth.

The inconsistent teeth are small and even, often brilliantly white, but widely separated. Each tooth has a well defined space between it and its neighbor. Usually in men a small, straight nose and weak chin are seen with these teeth. The lips may be well formed, but will frequently be thin, and the mouth, in smiling, forms an oblique line, showing the glittering white teeth. The possessor is by nature treacherous, inconsistent in his affections, will turn on a woman or attack a weaker man. He will never meet a man of his own size in an encounter and will stab in the dark or work through a third party. Henry Irving makes his mouth up after this type for his wonderful Mephisto and accentuates the cruelty of its lines by the wicked arch to his eyebrows.—Kansas City Times.

SINGS LIKE A BIRD.

How a Young Cripple Entertains the Public and Earns a Good Living.

The most popular attraction for a Saturday evening crowd on the street nowadays is a young man whose special gift is that of whistling. He is frequently heard in front of the principal stores on Nicollet avenue, and never fails to draw a crowd about him. The money he has raised that way, he claims, has taken him three times around the world, says Minneapolis Tribune.

While he has a good whistle and a fair voice for singing, it will be noticed that he walks on a single leg, with the assistance of crutches, and that one arm also is missing. He has a pleasant countenance, and his whistling apparatus is well developed.

The young man's name is A. H. Bryant, and he claims California as his home, though he says he is much like the birds, and that his home is where he happens to light. He is 23 years of age, although he looks younger, and he is approached by young ladies, as he entertains them on the street, as though he were a brother to them all. Mr. Bryant lost his arm and leg some six years ago, giving them for the life of a young lady, who was his companion at the time. He was then traveling with an opera troupe in the old world, and at the time of the accident was at Sidney, Australia. While walking with the young lady in question and crossing some railway tracks they were met by one train going one way and another in the opposite direction. The young lady only saw one of the engines, and he sprang to hold her back, when he was caught by the other and his right arm and leg were taken off. Up to that time he had not done any whistling on the street, but had devoted his energies principally to making a reputation as a singer. He says that by singing on the street in all kinds of temperatures he has gradually lost his voice for singing. As a whistler, however, he is simply fine, and can be heard distinctly two or three blocks. The airs he whistles are chiefly of the operatic sort, interspersed with old home songs. He is also a ventriloquist, and even when whistling can throw his voice to attract people at a distance, if he thinks they are worth the effort.

HISTORIC TIMEKEEPERS.

Some Watches Once Owned by Mary Queen of Scots.

Mary of Scotland had her watches. In those days there was a great variety in the shape of the watch. A favorite shape was that of a skull; another was that of a coffin. Descriptions exist of several of Mary's watches. There was one coffin-shaped in a crystal case. There was another in which cat-gut supplied the place of the interior chain in the modern watch. One very marvelous piece of workmanship in the form of a skull is the property of the Dick Lauder family. It was originally the property of Mary, Queen of Scots, and was bequeathed to Mary Setoun, her maid of honor, Feb. 7, 1557. On the forehead of the skull are the symbols of death, the scythe and the hour glass. At the back of the skull is Time and at the top of the head are the Garden of Eden and the crucifixion. The watch is opened by reversing the skull. Inside are the holy family, angels, shepherds with their flocks. The works form the brains. The dial plate is the palate. Another skull-shaped watch which belonged to Mary was a gift from her husband, Francis II. Arnold of the Strand presented George III. in 1764 a watch of his manufacture set in a ring, the cylinder of which was made of an oriental ruby. The czar of Russia, when he heard of these mites of watches, offered Arnold 1,000 guineas if he would make one for him, but the artist would not consent.

Just as they thought they were going to close in on him and were putting their horses to their best Tex waved his sombrero over his head, standing erect in the saddle, and gave such an unearthly yell that the poor pony was frightened into a convulsive effort that carried him beyond the range of vision of Tucker and his man. Yet on they pressed, around the shoulder of a hill, and there they saw their man—at their mercy.

Queen Wilhelmina's Autograph.

When young Queen Wilhelmina visited the other day the marvelous vaults at Maestricht, which are one of the sights of the place, she was requested by the authorities to inscribe her name upon a marble slab in the wall, which bears the signatures of many other sovereigns, Dutch and foreign, prominent among them the autograph of the first Napoleon. Just at the very moment when she was about to comply with the request three tiny gnomes sprang out from behind a pillar and exclaimed, in accordance with time-honored custom:

"Who are you that dares add your name to that of William the Silent and of many illustrious rulers of the Netherlands?" Queen Wilhelmina, who had been prepared for this little piece of pantomime, replied: "I am the daughter of this King William III., whose signature you see here, and his successor to the throne of Holland," whereupon the gnomes—three small boys dressed up for the occasion—bowed low, received some coin, and retired.

WHO WILL BUY CORN?

This year, with more corn than money, people are wondering why Europe doesn't learn to eat the golden cereal.

Certainly educational efforts have not been lacking.

At the Paris exposition of 1887 hundreds of thousands of people were given an opportunity to test the merits of this cereal prepared in a great variety of forms and made as palatable as the skill of American cooks could make it.

Subsequently efforts were made to introduce it to the tables of the people of England and Scotland, and still later a most persistent effort was made to induce the German people to substitute corn bread for the black compound of wheat and rye which the masses of the common people of that country eat.

For a time there was promise of success, particularly in Germany, when the government manifested an interest in the matter. The demand for corn increased and it was confidently expected that the American corn producers had found in Europe a market the demands of which would steadily grow from year to year. But the fair promise was not realized and last year our exports of corn to European markets fell to a comparatively insignificant amount.

All the object lessons thus far have not convinced Europe that corn is fit for anything but horse feed. Perhaps the efforts would be more successful if Americans furnished an example by eating more corn themselves.

DAIRY SCHOOLS.

Wisconsin has no educational institution that pays such big dividends as the state dairy school. Dairy methods here are improving but they are yet far behind those of Denmark, and Denmark's high place in dairying has been reached by the thorough and scientific education of those engaged in it. It was Denmark that furnished the most of the $65,000,000 worth of butter imported by England last year. England also spent $26,000,000 for foreign cheese in 1894, of which amount the United States furnished but $7,800,000 and Canada $13,100,000. On cheese making Denmark has never laid especial stress, but on other dairy products she leads the world—a fact for which her dairy schools are in large measure responsible.

"SHERMAN"

Two years ago democrats were howling against John Sherman. Today the best men in their party take the name of "Sherman democrats" and are proud of it. Sherman more than any other man except Cleveland has forced the party back to its old ground on the finance question. Its attitude on this issue was the best part of the democracy's record before the war, and it has been the worst of it since the war. By the time that Missouri, Mississippi and the few other states in which the silver heresy still prevails swing over to the honest money side the democrats may really begin to trace back the party's apostolic succession to Jackson and Jefferson. The change will be of the highest importance to the country.

MUCH IRRIGATING.

Irrigation makes a considerable showing in the census of 1890. In that year, according to the official report, 52,581 farm owners in the arid and subhumid regions of eleven states and territories were employing artificial means of watering their land to the extent of 3,564,416 acres. The average size of these farms were sixty-eight acres, and their average annual production was placed at $14.89 per acre. The census of 1890 will show a large extension of the area irrigated. The various systems are still in the experimental stage, but the main fact looks up that irrigation will be one of the leading elements of the American agriculture of the future.

The best time that new English train has been able to make is sixty miles an hour for 540 miles. That doesn't equal the American record however, which is 436 miles at an average speed of 61.56 miles an hour. The same American road the New York Central, also holds the record for the fastest single mile, which was made in thirty two seconds.

Senator Peffer wants the people to issue their own money, and then wants the banks to take it without security. That's just what the country needs to make everybody but the bankers wealthy.

The last scheme in behalf of Queen Lil, that of interesting English sympathy in her behalf, will flatten out just as completely as did President Cleveland's propaganda for the dusky monarch.

Hamburg, Aug. 29.—The German-American veterans arrived yesterday from Bremen. They were received at the railroad station by a committee of the Hamburg Military Society and by deputations of citizens carrying banners. They will visit Prince Bismarck at Friedrichsruhe today, and will afterward hold commers at the Ludwig Concert House.

A CASE OF PILES OF EIGHTEEN YEARS STANDING.

Cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

There are plenty of pile cures which give relief and sometimes cure a mild case of piles, but there is only one which can be depended upon with certainty to cure obstinate long standing cases, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure.

Endorsements and testimonials are received daily from men and women whose integrity and reliability are above question and in this connection a letter received from the Rev. Jas. H. Westbrook, of Bowne, Mich., may be of interest to pile sufferers who have sought in vain for a cure. He says:

I have used the Pyramid Pile Cure and I know that it is all that is claimed for it. I had been troubled with piles more or less for about eighteen years and I had tried other remedies, but the piles grew worse until about ten months ago I used the Pyramid Pile Cure. It gave almost instant relief and I have been free from piles ever since. Rev. Jas. H. Westbrook.

The remedy seems to act equally well in every form of piles, blind, bleeding, protruding or itching. It stops all pain almost immediately, relieves irritation and removes constipation, and anyone who has suffered the annoyance and pain of a rectal trouble will appreciate the excellent results which invariably follow the first application of the Pyramid.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Albion, Mich., and for sale by druggists everywhere.

Two sizes, 50 Cents and $1. Sold by all druggists.

FACTS AND REFORM.

The Thumb Bible, published in Aberdeen in 1670, measures one inch square and nearly half an inch thick.

The Christian Workers' Training Institute has been organized by members of the churches of English, Ind.

The Methodist Episcopal church requires all candidates for the ministry to study Professor Ely's "Social Aspects of Christianity."

The New York Times calculates that New Yorkers expend annually about $5,500,000 on churches, while theaters absorb about $6,500,000.

The Chinese Christians in Canton have joined a book-lending association, and send out a staff of book lenders to gather and distribute good literature.

According to the report given at the London meeting of the Salvation Army they now have fifty rescue homes in England and other countries, which receive annually 3,000 women.

Mr. W. T. Stead is making the bold venture of publishing penny editions of the poets. His theory is that the masses will read the best literature if brought within the reach of their means.

At Columbus, Ohio, the Junior Christian Endeavor Union has undertaken the support of a room in the Children's Hospital. One hundred and seventy-five dollars has already been contributed for the work.

Scotland now has 150 Christian Endeavor Societies. This is just the number enrolled in the United States during the first three years of the society's existence, and Christian Endeavor was almost unknown in Scotland three years ago.

The Boys Brigade, which began in Glasgow twelve years ago, now numbers 750 companies, with over 2,600 officers and 33,000 boys in the United Kingdom. Lord Aberdeen has accepted the presidency of the Canadian branch, which now numbers 4,000 members.

SWIFT CYCLERS TRY FOR GOOD PRIZES

FIRST DAY OF THE STATE CIRCUIT MEET.

Sanger, Schrader, Bingheimer and Other Milwaukee Cracks Do Not Try Conclusions Against the Chicago Men Until Tomorrow—Track In Good Condition.

There was enough of a crowd at the track to do plenty of yelling when the first race of the Janesville state circuit meet was run.

Racers from all the best clubs in the state were in Domestic Hall being rubbed down by their trainers.

Pop corn men were howling.

Score card boys yelled.

And President Jackson, of the Arrow Cycling Club, had to talk very loud to make people hear his announcements.

Bicker, Becker, Lange and several other of the fastest Chicago men were unable to get here today, having raced yesterday in Sycamore. That disappointed the crowd but pleased some of the Milwaukee racers who thought chances were considerably better in consequence. Tomorrow the Chicagoans and the Cream City boys will rub against one another for the first time since early in the season.

It's an easy matter to talk of other people's trouble, and business, but we will find our time well taken up with our own. Shoeing people and saving them half on every deal abores the workin hours of the day. Becker & Woodruff.

CULTURE CLUB—All the young people who desire to unite in the work of the Culture club, are expected to meet in the ladies' parlors of All Soul's, the People's Church, Friday evening, at 7:30. Important matters demand immediate attention.

Foolish fellow was Byers. If he had stepped into our store when he wanted shoes, we would have sold them to him so cheap that he would not have stolen them from the outside. Becker & Woodruff.

PRISON ALL READY FOR ERNEST BYER

TERM AT WAUPUN SEEKS TO THREATEN.

The Larceny of a Pair of Shoes From Becker & Woodruff's Store Last Night Was His Second Offense and Makes His Crime a Felony—Ellefon and His Wife Make Up.

States prison stares Ernest Beyers in the face as cogitates in a cell at the county jail.

Larceny and second offence at that, was the charge made against Beyers in the municipal court this morning. He waived examination and in default of $500 bail will remain in jail until September 5 at which time an information will be filed against him.

Byer, it is claimed, is a member of the "River Street Beer Club." This gang of young men have been making their headquarters in a building on South River street, and, it is said, get their living without working. The police have suspected them of many offences but have been unable to find any conclusive evidence. Last night, however, Byer overreached himself, he grabbed a pair of patent leather shoes that were on the tabe in front of Becker & Woodruff's store and then ran. Al. Smith, Jr., saw him do it, and gave the alarm. Byer bolted into the stairway leading to Sutherland & Nolan's office and was tackled by Mr. Sutherland, who was just coming down stairs. Byer succeeded in getting away from Mr. Sutherland, but ran into Officer Smith's arms at the bottom of the stairway.

Was His Second Offense.

Byer was willing to take a jail sentence, he said, when he came before Judge Phelps this morning, but the charge being a felony, he waived examination, and the case was set for a week from today. Some time ago Byer stole a box of jelly from W. F. Carl's store, and ran up the stairway leading to Mason's barber shop. For this offence he served time in jail, so the crime committed last night is enough to send him to Waupun.

W. F. Carl and F. S. Winslow were in court when Byer was brought in. They told the judge that Byer and the other members of the beer club, had taken goods belonging to them that would run up into the hundreds of dollars, and they wanted him punished accordingly. It is also thought by the police that Byer and alleged accomplices were responsible for the disappearance of numerous blankets and robes that were taken from sleighs that stood on the streets last winter, although there was no direct evidence that such was the case.

Byer, it is reported, was arrested for non support, the complaint being made by his wife. He claimed that he was forced into the wedding, and that the ceremony was too short a one to be legal, and that the parties got together between adjournments of the case and patched up a truce. Mr. Ellefon was the step daughter of Justice of the Peace James Clough of Fulton and the ceremony that made them one, was performed, Ellefon claimed, while Mrs. Clough held the door and kept Ellefon in the room. The ceremony, according to Ellefon's story, was probably the shortest one on record for he says that Justice Clough first told them to clasp their right hands, which they did.

"You are man and wife!" said Justice Clough, and the congratulations followed. The law does not hold that any regular form must be followed, however, so the ceremony was a legal one and Ellefon decided to abide by it and the case against him was dismissed.

Ellefon Case Dismissed.

Christian Ellefon and his wife will dwell together, in the future, in the shade of their own vine and fig tree, which flourished in the village of Fulton. Ellefon, it will be remembered, was arrested for non support, the complaint being made by his wife. He claimed that he was forced into the wedding, and that the ceremony was too short a one to be legal, and that the parties got together between adjournments of the case and patched up a truce. Mr. Ellefon was the step daughter of Justice of the Peace James Clough of Fulton and the ceremony that made them one, was performed, Ellefon claimed, while Mrs. Clough held the door and kept Ellefon in the room. The ceremony, according to Ellefon's story, was probably the shortest one on record for he says that Justice Clough first told them to clasp their right hands, which they did.

"You are man and wife!" said Justice Clough, and the congratulations followed. The law does not hold that any regular form must be followed, however, so the ceremony was a legal one and Ellefon decided to abide by it and the case against him was dismissed.

EXERCISE.

Exercise will help a young man to lead a chaste life.

Metal will rust if not used, and the body will become diseased if not exercised.

Any man who does not take time for exercise will probably have to make time to be ill.

A man "too busy" to take care of his health is like a workman too busy to sharpen his tools.

Plato called a man lame because he exercised the mind while the body was allowed to suffer.

Body and mind are both gifts, and for the proper use of them our Maker will hold us responsible.

Varied, light and brisk exercise, next to sleep, will rest the tired brain better than anything else.

Exercise gradually increases the physical powers, and gives more strength to resist sickness.

A sound body lies at the foundation of all that goes to make life a success. Exercise will help to give it.

Exercise will do for your body what intellectual training will do for your mind—educate and strengthen it.

FLOATING WIT.

A country cemetery has the following notice over the gate: "Only the dead who live in the parish are buried here."

Going!—This was the tempting notice lately exhibited by a dealer in cheap shirts: "They won't last long at this price!"

Cumso—A good sewing machine is said to do the work of twelve women. Do you believe that, Cawker? Cawker—No. It can't talk.

Wife (tearfully)—You have broken your promise! Husband (kissing her)—Never mind, my dear—don't cry; I'll make you another.

Dad, what's a miracle?" "A miracle, Bobby, is that which cannot be accomplished by man alone." "Is getting married a miracle, dad?"

Very Amateur Singer (at evening party sings)—"Oh, let me like a soldier fall!" Agonized Guest—You certainly should if I had a gun anywhere handy.

A short man was asked if he had fallen in love with a certain tall woman. "Do you call it falling in love?" replied he. "It's more like climbing up to it."

Winston—What do people mean when they say of a girl she is 'quaint'? Winston—They mean usually that it is charitable not to express their real opinion of her.

Wife—How people stare at my new dress! I presume they wonder if I've been shopping in Paris. Husband—More likely they wonder if I've been robbing a bank.

You will never be able to weld a club as lively as that ultra-muscular chappie, but you may recover physical energy through the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. If you will take that thorough tonic with regularity and persistence, not spasmodically—by fits and starts. Begin at once if vigor is failing you. Fortitude is the certain parent of disease, so that delay is dangerous. Digestion, the function through the perfect discharge of which sugar is renewed, is insured by the Bitters. So are appetite, sleep and nervous quietude. For the cure of rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble and biliousness, the Bitters is unquestionably the best remedied extant. The restorative effects of a wineglassful three times every day will soon make themselves manifest. Verify the system and grow strong.
